Thereafter, President Elect Dwight Scott announced and welcomed the new committee chairs and Executive for the coming year 2012-13.

The Technical Session was a Panel Discussion on Geothermal Technologies. The participants were Stephen Tweedie of TACE, Moncton, Marc Belanger of Master Group, Montreal and John Conroy of Conroy Refrigeration. The discussion was opened by Stephen Tweedie with a presentation entitled “Demystifying Geothermal Systems – An Engineering Perspective. The presentation was interjected with comments by Marc Belanger and John Conroy and audience participation.

The presentation focused on avoiding the common misconceptions regarding payback periods, building load analysis and certain rules of thumb and really understanding system types, water quality and an in depth understanding of drilling issues and installation issues. Marc and John provided an insight into the actual field problems encountered with their hands on experiences on various job sites. This was followed by a brief questions and answers session.

Letter from 2011-2012 President Kevin Clannon

As the ASHRAE 2011-2012 year comes to its end, (okay so I am a little late) I would like to take the opportunity to thank all the members of the current Executive who helped to make this year such a success.

I would also like to introduce the new Executive and wish them all the best for the upcoming year.

President :	Dwight Scott	Research Promotion:	Rob Hoadley
President Elect :	Cam Chevarie	Student Activities:	John Wilden
Vice President:	Kevin Clannon	Historian:	David Samuel
Treasurer:	Fred Bernard	CTTC Chair:	Yves Savoie
Secretary:	Sharlene Innes	Newsletter Editor:	Jennifer Chapman
Membership Promotion:	Dan Boudreau	Webmaster:	Jennifer Chapman

Board of Governors: Robert McEwen, Mike Boudreau, Chris Sanderson, Eric LeBlanc, Luc Dugas, Ken Martin.

We had a great year with a good line up of technical and social programs that were all well attended.

We started the year off with technical sessions on some newer technologies in Variable Refrigerant Flow, Active Chilled Beams and Dedicated Outdoor Air Systems. After a very technical fall, we kicked off the Christmas season with a Past President's night and Christmas Party. Into the New Year we started off relatively light with a visit from the Provincial Boiler Inspector to demystify CRN numbers, this was followed with a talk on Investments and Construction Bonding. In April we had our Distinguished Lecturer Verle Williams. For this presentation we engaged the services of a production company to record the presentation and provide it to our membership via the Internet; in an effort to have the same information available to everyone outside the Moncton area who can't make our regular monthly meetings. This April meeting was in conjunction with a visit from RP-RVC Daryl Sommers. In May we had 130 people take in two seminars in conjunction with MEET 2012, with speaker, Distinguished Lecturer Jim Newman. We wrapped up our year with something completely different, a panel or round table style discussion on Geothermal Systems from the perspectives of the designer, installer and supplier.

This year from society we have a new branding, which brings us a new logo.

Locally we participated in a school district 2 professional development day for Math and Science teachers to promote ASHRAE. From what I understand this is the first time we have reached out like this to the public school system.

I look forward to seeing you at the Golf Tournament on August 2!

Sincerely,
Kevin Clannon
