Come and See

The Society of Our Lady Saint Mary is a religious society within the Anglican Church of Canada. Our Visitor is the bishop of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. We welcome members from the Anglican tradition as well as women from other Christian denominations to come and join us.

We are located in a peaceful rural setting on highway 217 west of Digby Nova Scotia in an area called 'The Digby Neck'.

The Society was founded in 1979 at the request of the Rt. Rev. Leonard Hatfield, then bishop of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. Bishop Hatfield asked to have a house of prayer and hospitality established in this location of the diocese.

The chapel and our life of prayer are the centre of our lives, nurturing us in our outreach and ministry.

Guests are invited to join us in the daily offices.

Step aside from the hustle and bustle of daily life and spend some quiet and reflective time in one of our three facilities; offered to anyone:

•Retreat cottage seasonal, end May

Located about 20 km (12 miles) west of the convent house in the rustic village of Sandy Cove, the cottage is a quaint structure settled near the waters of Saint Mary's Bay. Local beaches and walking trails are nearby.

•Hermitage open all year

This cabin is located in a wooded setting on our property. It may be occupied independently of the convent house.

•Bed-sitting room in the convent house

This self-contained bed-sitting room has kitchen facilities to prepare light meals.

Associates

Associates are Christians who desire to have a closer relationship with the Society of Our Lady Saint Mary.

Associates live by a Rule of Life that is tailored to the individual's lifestyle.

An Associate promises to pray for the Society of Our Lady Saint Mary daily and to support the Society by donating their time, talents and treasure as they are able.

Anyone interested in becoming an Associate of the Society of Our Lady Saint Mary should contact the Society.
