

1822 Census of Whitby Township

As recorded in the Oshawa Vindicator, 18 May 1864, page 2. No additional information is available about this census at this time; below is a transcription of the article from the Vindicator, as well as the original article itself. There may be transcription errors.

Early Records of the Township of Whitby

We give, below, as promised, a list of the names of all the heads of families of the old Township of Whitby in the year 1822, as found recorded on six of the pages of the old record book from which we have been making quotations for the benefit, chiefly, of “our oldest inhabitants.” Following each name, in the record from which we copy, our figures showing the number of males and females in each family, the number over and the number under 16, and the number of servants, or hired men. For the sake of brevity, however, we omit all except the totals. The old Township of Whitby, to which this list relates, is now divided up into four municipalities, viz:—the two townships of Whitby and East Whitby, the town of Whitby, and the village of Oshawa.

Early Records of the Township of Whitby.

We give, below, as promised, a list of the names of all the heads of families of the old Township of Whitby in the year 1822, as found recorded on six of the pages of the old record-book from which we have been making quotations for the benefit, chiefly, of "our oldest inhabitants." Following each name, in the record from which we copy, are figures showing the number of males and of females in each family, the number over and the number under sixteen, and the number of servants, or hired men. For the sake of brevity, however, we omit all except the totals. The old Township of Whitby, to which this list relates, is now divided up into four Municipalities, viz:—The two Townships of Whitby and East Whitby, the Town of Whitby, and the Village of Oshawa.
