Column Writers Needed for SENIORS CONNECT!

Writing for a newspaper may have always been a dream for you! Whitecappers can now contribute to a weekly column in the Chestermere Anchor. You can write on any topic that connects to seniors. Your imagination is the limit-growing up, great memories, life stories, hobbies, etc. Length is a minimum of 400 words and can include photos. Email your column content or if you have questions, email Don at cassidy@telus.net. He will send you column specifications and answer your questions.

Your On-Line Media Sources

If you may not already know, the Whitecappers have a website at whitecappers.ca and a Facebook page. If you have content or ideas that you feel can be shared with members and the public, mail Don at cassidy@telus.net.

One night, Mrs McMillen answers the door to see her husband's best friend, Paddy, standing on the doorstep.

"Hello Paddy, where is my husband? He went with you to the beer factory."

Paddy shakes his head. "Ah, Mrs McMillen, there was a terrible accident at the beer factory, your husband fell into a vat of Guinness and drowned."

Mrs McMillen starts crying. "Oh don't tell me that, did he at least go quickly?"

Paddy shakes his head. "Not really – he got out three times to peel!"

Two elderly friends, Colleen and Maureen, hadn't seen each other in a while, but met while shopping. Colleen inquired, "And how is your husband?"

"Oh! Paddy died last week."

He went out to the garden to dig up a cabbage for dinner, had a heart attack and dropped down dead, right there in the middle of the vegetable patch!"

Colleen was shocked by the news and said, "Oh dear! I am so very sorry. What did you do?"

Maureen replied, "I opened a can of peas instead."
